

Stallion India Fluorochemicals Ltd

Company Information

Stallion India Fluorochemicals Limited (SIFL), established in 2002, is an Indian company based in Mumbai. SIFL is in the business of selling refrigerant and industrial gases and related products. The company's primary business involves debulking, blending, and processing these gases, as well as selling pre-filled cans and small cylinders/containers. SIFL's gases are utilized in various industries, including air conditioners and refrigerators, firefighting, semiconductor manufacturing, automobile manufacturing, pharmaceuticals, glass bottle manufacturing, aerosols, and spray foam. The company's product portfolio includes a diverse range of gases, with fluorochemicals being a primary focus, primarily used as refrigerants. SIFL sells its products under the brand name "Stallion". SIFL has a network of four processing facilities located in strategic regions for optimal efficiency and accessibility: Khalapur and Panvel (Maharashtra), Ghiloth (Rajasthan), and Manesar (Haryana). Each of these facilities is designed to store gases in a controlled environment, adhering to stringent safety standards. SIFL's production processes involve debulking and blending gases received in bulk quantities. Debulking involves transferring gases from larger containers, like ISO tanks or cylinders, into smaller cylinders for distribution. Blending involves combining different gases in specific proportions to create refrigerant blends that meet customer requirements.
